TWO DROWN WHEN A ROWBOAT SINKS

HENRY WENDA AND SISTER OF ST. JOSEPH VICTIMS AT BIG LAKE

ACCIDENT WAS YESTERDAY

Jack Hartness of This City Brought Wenda to the Surface of Water—Pulled Woman Out of Mud.

Henry S. Wenda, 31 years old and his sister, Mrs. Gertrude Brooks, 21 years old, of St. Joseph were drowned at Big lake, about five miles west of Bigelow, at 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning when a row boat they were in, with friends and relatives, filled with water and sank. A number of Maryville people witnessed the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kasten, rural route No. 2; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wenda, 1923 South Twentieth street; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brooks, 514 South 9th street and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wenda and their 2-year-old girl, 2711 Mitchell avenue all of St. Joseph, were in the boat when it sank. All were forced into the lake, and the men immediately started rescue work for the women and the little girl. It was during this struggle that Mrs. Gertrude Brooks was missed, and her brother diving after her, was caught about the neck by the frantic woman, witnesses said, and pulled under.

Jack Hartness Helped.

Jack Hartness of Maryville who was swimming at the time of the accident was successful in diving and found both Wenda and his sister at the bottom of the lake at a place where the water was seven feet deep. The woman had her arms around Wenda's back and it was necessary for Hartness to break her arm so as to get them released. Hartness brought Wenda to the surface of the water by a hold on his arm. Others took Wenda at that time. Hartness then dived for the woman and was able to pull her out of the mud. Others assisted in getting the woman to the surface.

The Fleeman-McNeill pulmotor of St. Joseph was called to the scene, but before it arrived the bodies had been recovered and death had claimed its toll. The bodies were taken to the undertaking parlors at Mound City and then taken to St. Joseph.

When the bodies were found, witnesses said, the brother and sister were together. Wenda was still alive when he was brought to the shore, but died a few minutes later. He had been in the water about ten minutes, it was said by those who were in the boat when the tragedy occurred, while Mrs. Brooks was under the water about fifteen minutes, they said.

Spending Week-End There.

The party left St. Joseph about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, to spend the week end at Big Lake.

Henry Wenda was foreman at the Nelson-Hanne Printing Company of St. Joseph. Albert Brooks, husband of Gertrude Brooks, is a carpenter and works with his father.

It is said these are the first drownings that have occurred at Big Lake in fifteen years.

GAYNOR PATRONS HELD SCHOOL MEETING SUNDAY

Will Secure Pledges for a One Year High School at That Place—Somerville Addressed Meeting.

A meeting of twenty-five patrons of the Gaynor school district was held at the church in Gaynor yesterday afternoon to discuss a proposition for running a community high school this fall. Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools, addressed the meeting and spoke in favor of their movement for a one year high school.

It was thought it would take about $1,200 to finance the school for one year. Several patrons of the district are securing pledges today for this school. The equipment is already in the school, as Gaynor had a subscription high school in 1920-21, but it was discontinued last year. The school was discontinued last year because of inability to raise funds to pay the teachers.

The Lafayette school in the southeast part of the county is the only rural school which is running a subscription high school.

FILMS BEING SHOWN AT FAIR

GEORGE PICKENS WRITES LETTER FROM SEDALIA.

TELLS OF MOTOR TRIP

Many Nodaway County People in Attendance—What the Independence Paper Says About Showing Films.

The following letter is from Secretary George A. Pickens of the Chamber of Commerce who is in Sedalia showing the Nodaway County films at the State Fair:

State Fair Grounds, Aug. 19, 1922.—Fred Newlon, Dick Hotchkin, Ralph Marcell and I arrived at the Fair grounds about 12 o'clock last night and when we located our tent it looked like an army camp, and there were so many Nodaway County boys sleeping in it.

The roads from Maryville to St. Joseph were good, via Bennett Lane, from St. Joseph to Kansas City they were fierce, and from Kansas City to Sedalia, fine.

The farther away we got from Nodaway the better she looked. However, we wish every one in Nodaway County could drive down if to only just see things. Nodaway County has the finest natural resources and nothing we saw in that respect will compare with Nodaway. Dairying is strong down here and the thicker the cream cows along the road the better home and out buildings we saw. It is common to see the farm named, like "Laurell Stock Farm," over the entrance gates with large pillars. Farm improvements are fine, beautiful houses and farm buildings, mostly white with green roofs.

South of St. Joseph the corn began to look worse and near Kansas City and on to Sedalia, while they say corn is good there was no comparison with Nodaway County crops in any way. One farm we passed was named "Justmeye Farm" and a big field of corn near was a sorry looking fiedl, and Fred Newlon turned to Dick Hotchkin and said, "That's just a mere corn field, Dick."

Of course this land is better fitted for grass and they use it, there's lots of dairying. All along the road last evening we saw from one to eight cream cans setting at the front gate of every farm and met big trucks picking them up and taking them to town. Farms seem much smaller than in Nodaway, at least the country from Kansas City to Sedalia is more thickly settled.

Saturday, the first day, was very quiet except concession men and exhibitors were active making ready for Monday. More Nodaway County folks are showing up at our tent, being: Mr. and Mrs. George Swinford, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wray, E. E. Vickery, Z. W. Thompson, Cole Yeisley Oscar Knox, Donald Bellows and William Gaugh.

The Nodaway County tent front is attracting lots of attention. We put up a 4x8 board and covered it with "still" scenes and above put a sign, "Free Moving Pictures—Agriculture in Nodaway County—Showing at 11 a. m., 2, 4 and 8 p. m."

The Nodaway County boys helping with the Fair are sure doing their work well. One of the Fair directors drove up to gate yesterday without passes and tried to get in but there was nothing doing. He had to pay before he could get in.

We are getting ready to make a picture of our front and tent and will have cut made to get some cards printed. We may have electros made for your use in the paper. If we do we will have them mailed direct.

The new swine pavilion or building is as good as there is anywhere. It is splendidly built and substantially put up. It is the largest in the United States and still there is not room enough. There is cattle from New York, Texas, Kansas and Nebraska and from all over Missouri. There are lots of stock exhibits coming in and machinery on display from all over the United States.

On our way to Sedalia we stopped at Independence and saw Wm. Southern, Jr., and went through his printing plant and he sure has a fine one. We also met Mr. Stanly, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and both were much interested in Nodaway County's novel exhibit.

We have already had sixteen men in the Nodaway County tent, and have

ALLEN MAY USE MORE TROOPS IN RAIL STRIKE

Governor Will Send Militia to Kansas City, Kansas, if Police Isn't Sufficient.

Kansas City, Kan., Aug. 21.—Unless rail strike disorders are quelled here within the next twenty-four hours state troops will be sent here, according to the edict issued by Governor Allen, who arrived here this morning for a conference with Harry Burton, Mayor and W. J. Wright, sheriff of Wyandotte County.

The conference this morning was made necessary by a disturbance yesterday in the vicinity of the Rock Island shops, when an explosion shook the buildings close to the bunk cars where the strike breakers are supposed to sleep. It is reported that gunmen have been imported here to intimidate new rail workers.

Mayor Burton has asked for twenty-four hours to reorganize the police and attempt to cope with the situation before state troops are called in. He declared that an added police force would be put on duty in the district of the disturbance.

PATROL OF DE MOLAY TOOK SECOND PLACE

KANSAS CITY SECURED FIRST PLACE BY THREE POINTS.

MARYVILLE WAS ON MAP

Many Complimentary Remarks Made About the Local Boys—Held Up as a Model.

The drill patrol of the Maryville chapter, Order of De Molay, scored second in the competitive drill at St. Louis Saturday. The Kansas City Chapter won first place with a score of 88 out of a possible 100 points. Maryville was second with 85, losing the silver loving cup by three points. The St. Louis perfection chapter was third with a score of 79.

The Maryville boys put up a very creditable drill and were surpassed by neither of the other two teams. Kansas City won first place on account of her general appearance, her uniforms being better and higher priced. Two chapters Springfield and St. Louis, did not take part in the drill when they saw the keen competition in it.

The Pathe News Service took pictures of the grand parade and also of each patrol.

The Second Annual Missouri State Conclave of the Order of De Molay which was held at the Scottish Rite Temple in St. Louis Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week, was a decided success. Many matters of importance were brought before the conclave the most important of which was the plan to erect a De Molay dormitory at the State University at Columbia. It was voted to raise $150,000 from De Molay in Missouri for the purpose of building this domitory.

The question of the dance was discussed at length in the conclave. The result is that De Molays may not attend public dances but they are free to promote as many De Molay dances as they wish with the consent of the District Governor, and provided they are properly chaperoned.

De Molays are also forbidden to frequent public pool halls. M. A. Perry, who is district governor of this district for the De Molays, is going to see that this order is strictly enforced in Maryville.

The question of the wearing of the De Molay pin was also settled at a meeting of the Master Councilors. No one but a De Molay is entitled to wear a De Molay pin. There have been instances where the pin has been given to some girl friend of a De Molay. This is absolutely forbidden. No one but the owner of the pin is entitled to wear it.

Suspension and expulsion were decided upon as best means for cleaning up chapters dropping from the lists boys who are not a benefit.

Many other matters were brought to the notice of the Conclave.

Maryville was complimented more than once at the Conclave. The delegation from this city was the largest from any chapter with the exception of the Mother Chapter in Kansas City. Thirty-two Maryville boys attended the conclave.

Frank S. Land, founder of the Order of De Molay and Grand Scribe, complimented Maryville. He said, "Every time I pick up a newspaper I see something about the Maryville chapter. You certainly have a live bunch up there."

At the banquet held Saturday night the Maryville chapter was complimented and held up as a model for smaller cities and what pep and enthusiam could do in a community. Many of the members were very much surprised at what had been accomplished here.

Over 800 De Molays attended the Conclave. There are eighty-three chapters in Missouri with 20,000 members. Seventy-four chapters were represented at the Conclave. The next conclave will be held in Springfield next year. The choice was unanimous. Columbia applied for the conclave.

Many of the Maryville boys remained in St. Louis over Sunday and with M. A. Peery visited the Masonic hall and many other places of interest there. They returned home this morning. Gordon Roach, William Geist and William McDougal left St. Louis yesterday morning in their automobile.

Motor to Big Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Simmons and Mrs. Roy Johnston and her guests, Mrs. Florence Doff and son, Louie, of St. Louis enjoyed an outing at Big Lake yesterday.

CONGRESS MAY BREAK WITH HARDING ON BONUS

Washington, Aug. 21.—Republican leaders here today are fearful that President Harding and Congress are near a break on the soldiers' bonus bill. The president again served notice that he will veto any bonus that does not provide specifically a method of revenue to finance it and he favors a sales tax as the best method. Congress has informed the president that they will pass over his veto any bill that the senate and house agree upon.

SEVERAL SLIGHTLY INJURED IN TENT SHOW ACCIDENT

Tier of Seats Fall of Leonard Players at Ravenwood Picnic Saturday Night

Several persons were injured but none seriously when a tier of seats at the Leonard Players tent show at the Ravenwood picnic fell Saturday night during the early part of the show. Seven or eight persons sustained sprained ankles in the accident. Carl Bishop, living near Stanberry was cut on the leg; Mrs. Stevenson, five and one-half miles north of Ravenwood sustained a fractured bone in one leg and Mrs. Viola Hall, who is visiting in Ravenwood, received a rather severe injury to her ankle.

There was quite a panic for a time in the tent when the entire north tier of seats gave way. The accident happened just as the curtain was going up for the opening of the show. The injured were immediately removed to a doctor's office for treatment. After things had quieted down the seats were replaced and the performance was continued to completion.

Another minor accident occurred at the Ravenwood picnic Saturday night when a gas lamp at one of the concessions exploded, burning the tent. No one was injured.

A large crowd attended the picnic Saturday.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

THE TWO ENDURING ASSETS.

Referring to the appeal of the Columbia Rotary Club to grade students to continue their studies, the Columbia Tribune has the following excellent editorial on the duties of parents and children:

"No matter how wealthy or how poor parents are there are but two enduring assets they can leave to their children. The first is home training, and closely allied to this fundamental is the development of the intellect in preparation for expanding the abilities of the child as it grows. The formative period is often spoken of, and usually it refers to childhood and adolescence, but the formative period of the intellects of men and women doesn't cease until far into the sunset of life, we might say until time has brought them to dotage, for man's intellect is ever alert; he is eternally learning, and so long as he learns just so long is he in the 'formative period.'

"Of course it is more essential to train the minds and intellects of children in psychological cycles. A child must start from its A B C's; it must apply itself in the grade schools at the grade school age, and naturally the high school period must follow in its cycle. To interrupt the cycle of intelligence training is to throw the globe from its orbit and cause a disarrangement that will henceforth cause embarassment, for a child starts through the grade schools at a certain age and is presumed to make one grade each year. He starts with a certain group of children, and if he is taken out of school for just a year, he is embarrassed at the thought that he is a year behind those with whom he started; if he is a studious child, he is humiliated to think he has lost a year from his educational work.

"The fundamental work of training a child is not in the school but in the home. Children should be taught the fine amenities of home life; how to eat, how walk into a room, how to sit in a chair, how to greet and entertain visitors. Above all they should be taught courtesy and a reverence for age. Most children are susceptible to this early home training; some are not, but as they grow older, having been taught it, they grasp and employ it. A child who has had no home training cannot be expected to progress in school as does one where parental diligence has been applied and the child develops commensurate with that diligence.

"Parents owe to their children an education—an education in the home and the development of their minds in the schools. In recent years, parental sacrifice has been one great feature in American life. In Columbia where education is a specialty, we notice many boys and girls come here and their manner of living indicates that home the mother and father are working 'their fingers off to educate their children. In the end they are generally rewarded for the grateful child, appreciate of the equipment given him by his parents, pays back, in some measure, for the sacrifices his father and mother have made for him."

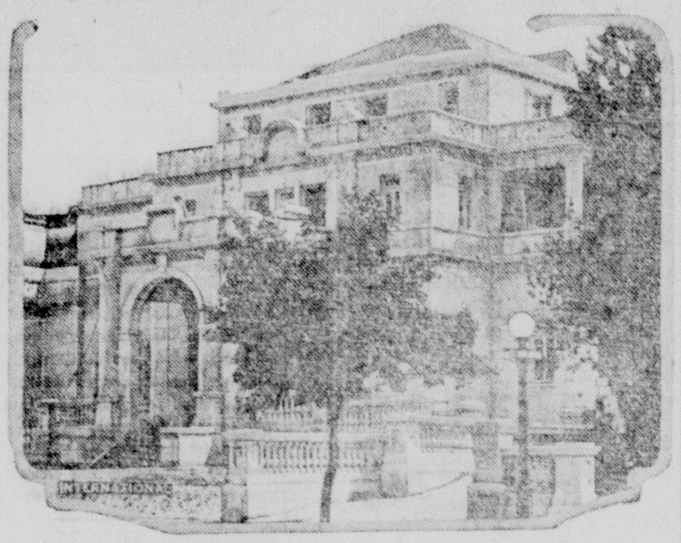
May Be the Vice President's Mansion



At last the vice president of the United States may have an official home in the capital. According to rumors, this building, nearing completion at Sixteenth and Fuller streets, is to be the official mansion for the vice president. The architects have designed the interiors so that they might be used for state occasions and the completed building will be modeled after an Italian villa. Mrs. Calvin Coolidge is said to have already inspected the house and passed favorably upon it.

Since the operators and miners have settled, the next settlement should be between the public and the profiteers.

Grown Up, But Still A Boy

News from the Constitutional Convention for the Past Week

Written by J. S. Hubbard, Executive Secretary of the Missouri Press Association.

Unless provided for in some other form the public service commission will not get a place in the new constitution, following the action of the Committee on Executive and Ministerial Departments in voting against proposal No. 115. This provided for the establishment as a constitutional body of the public service commission of Missouri, consisting of five commissioners appointed by the governor and each holding office for six years. The present commission is so composed and it has practically the same powers, the difference being that it is a statutory body. While some members of the committee appear to favor some body of this kind as a branch of the ministerial departments, the members all hesitate to name it specifically in the constitution. They believe that it is on the whole best to leave it as it is. The friends of the general proposition of a constitutional public service commission contend that it should be a permanent body; that it is of necessity technical in character if it is to do effective work, and that it should not be in politics. Local commissions for cities were opposed by those favoring the state body, for the reason that they were made a political fooball, and thus were not effective.

On the ground that the prohibition question has been settled by amendment of the United States Constitution and by legislative endorsement of that amendment, the Bill of Rights committee has refused to write into the new bill of rights the provision that "The manufacture, transportation, or gift of any liquors for beverage purposes is prohibited." The proposal was warmly supported before the committee, but it was voted down 5 to 3. This closes the matter unless it is brought before the convention in a minority report or as an amendment to the bill of rights.

Women are given due recognition in the new bill of rights by a special section passed on in the committee by a unanimous vote. Though covered in a late constitutional amendment the committtee gives the proposition a place in the document in the following words: "The right of citizens of Missouri to vote or hold office shall not be denied or abridged on account of race, color or sex."

Aimed at the man who seeks to dodge payment of alimony and the maintenance or support of his dependent wife and minor children, the Bill of Rights Committee has agreed to a provision in Section 16, by which he may be sent to jail for willful nonpayment. It is believed by the committee that this provision will have the effect to make the miscreant fulfill his just obligations rather than go to jail. The revised section provides "that imprisonment for debt shall not be allowed except for the non-payment of fines and penalties imposed for the violation of law; provided, that the legislature may enact laws for imprisonment for the wilfull non-payment of judgments rendered for alimony, maintenance or support of dependent wives and minor children."

Approval of the provisions in Proposal No. 192, by the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, carriers with it also a part of the provision in Proposal 287 referring to the protection of the health and safety of employes in factories, mines and on railroads. The new section as passed by the committee provides that "The general assembly provide means for the safeguarding and promotion of the public health and welfare, including the safety of employes in industry." In the view of the concerted attack on the proposal by the Christian Scientists, it is anticipated that a minority report will be made to the convention on this section.

Shall the control of the police system be vested in the cities with the power of removal from office in the hands of the governor? That is a question that is before the Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns in a so-called "home rule" proposal. The proponents declare that the present system has proved entirely unsatisfactory and that conditions are becoming intolerable in the larger municipalities. They believe that the cities can handle that feature much better than it is now operating, and they also want the right to pass their own ordinances for city affairs, subject to the limitations of the constitution. The strongest opponent to home rule has been a city member, but he has so far changed his ideas on the proposition that he is willing to agree to a limited home rule measure, with out in any way releasing the cities from legislative control in all general propositions. "The state must control the election machinery," this member said "but I believe that we should let the cities control their own police, with perhaps the right of renewal in the governor."

Some expressions of fear have been heard from the country districts that an effort would be made by the city representatives in the constitutional convention to get a larger representation in the legislature or secure other special rights and privileges. It is believed that this fear is unfounded and that there is no disposition on the part of the city members to ask special favors not accorded all other political subdivisions of the state. In fact, one city representative made the remark in one of the committee meetings that the cities preferred being governed by the country on all general propositions.

Opponents of the committee report on the new judiciary system for the state have raised the question of its expense, notwithstanding the statement of the committee when making its report that in its judgment there would be a considerable saving to the people and a much better judicial system. In an attempt to answer these opponents R. E. Culver of the committee has submitted figures in which he estimates conservatively that the abolition of the courts provided in the committee report would result in a saving of at least $475,500, while the new court judges, officials and employes would cost only $312,500 to $375,000, showing a substantial amount in favor of the new system in the matter of cost of operation. Even if it cost the state as much as at present, the speaker contended that the people would be gainers in having justice better administered.

An important feature in the report of the Committee on Taxation will be a provision for a constitutional tax commission. The report of the subcommittee, which has been acted on favorably by the the whole committee, provides for a tax commission of three members to be appointed by the governor by and with the consent of the senate, each to serve for a term of six years, except that the first appointees are to be appointed for two, four and six years. The commission is to have power to supervise the collection of all taxes collected by the state; to assess for purposes of taxation the property of all railways, telegraph, telephone and pipe lines and such other public utilities as may be designated by law; to adjust and equalize the valuation of real and personal property among the several counties of the state, to supervise the assessment of all property subject to taxation, and to perform such other duties as may be prescribed by law.

The fact that no more reports have been made to the convention does not mean that the committees have not been striving toward a completion of their work as speedily as possible. Several of them are dependent on the work of other committees which are delayed by conditions that cannot be hurried, but which may be cleared up on any day. Both afternoon and evening have been devoted to committee work and progress is being made every day, so that several more reports will probably be laid before the convention in another week. One of these will be the report of the Bill of Rights Committee, which is substantially completed.

A new sub-committee of the Committee on Education is trying to work out a plan for a board of education or some other provision on which the committee as a whole can unite. It has been suggested than an elective board be provided and that this board appoint the state superintendent or commissioner of education. It is held that this would give the people the intimate contract with the public school system of the state that it is declared they desire. Whether this suggestion will be seriously considered is not yet apparent.

So much has been made in the metropolitan press of what started from a joking remark of a member in regard to the activity of members of the convention on the golf links that it may be well to correct the possible impression that the members are not attending to convention business. This is farthest from the facts in the case. Some of the hardest working members, who have put in the morning in convention and in committees and then have attended committee meetings in the afternoon up to 4 or 5 o'clock have gone out to the country club for a round of golf and then come back for committee sessions in the evening. There has been no neglect of business on the part of these members and the recreation they have had has been well earned.

According to a plan worked out by the sub-committee of the Committee on Executive and Ministerial Departments if it is adopted all the civil administrative and executive functions of the state government will be placed in not to exceed twelve departments. Of these, four are designated as state, law, audits and accounts and treasury, the directing heads being the secretary of state, state auditor and state treasurer. All other boards or commissions provided for by this constitution or which may hereafter be created by law will be placed in the additional departments, of which there are to be not more than eight. Subject to the limitations contained in the constitution, the general assembly may from time to time assign by law new powers and functions to departments, officers, boards or commissions contained in or created by the new constitution; increase, modify or diminish their powers and functions.

MISSOURI WESLEYAN GIRLS GIVE CONCERT

Arrive Unexpectedly and Give Program at First M. E. Church Last Night.

The Missouri Wesleyan Concert Company entertained with a program last night at the First M. E. Church. There seems to have been some misunderstanding about the booking of this company for Maryville as they came in yesterday morning without anyone here knowing of their engagement. Notice of their arrival here and concert for the evening were circulated about town and a good sized audience greeted them at their performance. The union services of the two Methodist churches were cancelled in favor of the musicians.

The company was composed of four young women who are students of Missouri Wesleyan College at Cameron. They have been making a concert tour this summer and came here from Elmo. They are scheduled to appear in Mound City this evening.

The members of the company were Misses Mary McKee, reader; Neva Garner, violinist; Esna Somerville, soloist, and Edna Garner, pianist. Miss Somerville is a cousin of County Superintendent Leslie G. Somerville.

President Cameron Harmon of Missouri Wesleyan College, who spoke yesterday afternoon at Sidney, Iowa, was passing through Maryville yesterday evening, remained over to hear the concert. He gave a short talk at the close of the program. President Harmon was accompanied by his wife.

COLLEGE GIRLS HAVING BIG TIME AT "Y" MEET

Maryville Girls Write About Their Fun at Colorado Y. W. C. A. Camp.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. of the State Teachers College of this city who are in attendance at the Y. convention at Estes Park, Colo., are having a good time. A letter received by The Democrat-Forum says:

"We are having one wonderful time. Have met so many nice girls and we have such jolly times together. There are ten girls from the Maryville State Teachers College, and believe me, we do have some times. We are planning a big "feed" tonight down in our cottage after all the others have gone to bed. Last night we toasted marshmallows over our lamps. Fun! We sure had it.

"Some of us have been going on hikes every afternoon. Yesterday afternoon, three of us got lost and oh, those many weary miles we traveled before we finally found camp. We are hiking to Long's Peak Inn this afternoon.

"On Monday we went on a mountain tour to the top of Lookout Mountain to see Buffalo Bill's grave, and to Troutdale, Among the Pines. Thrills, sights, sensations, well we had them. It was about a seventy-five mile drive. We want to go to the Garden of the Gods and to the Cave of the Winds before coming home."

The representatives from the College Y here are: Misses Inez Moore, Marie Landfather, Ruth Houchens, Mrs. W. H. Nixson, Mabel and Evelyn Raines, Gertrude Smith of Gower, Misses Julia and Merle Hankins of Osborn, and Ernestine Dow of Liberty.

WABASH

Fifty Years Ago

From the Files of the Nodaway Democrat August 22, 1872.

Mr. Nicholas Dilk, of Hughes township, was badly hurt last week by a runaway team. He was entangled in the lines and dragged a considerable distance, and afterwards the wagon wheels passed over him, inflicting severe injuries.

One day last week we received a call from Mr. John Monteith, State Superintendent of Public Schools, who is looking after the interest of the State.

We call attention to the advertisement of Mr. Geo. Greenlee, residing near Quitman, who lost a valuable mare.

Elder D. O. Hink, of the Advent Christian Church, will hold services at Dan Swearingen's Grove, five miles south of Maryville, at 3½ o'clock next Sunday afternoon.

The stairway by the side of Schuster's building on Third street has been removed adding materially to the appearance of that part of town.

MULHOLLAND BOYS TEACH PONY A BAD TRICK

Just Because He Did His "Act" Well He Was Given to Horse Traders

Poor old Billy, did just what he had been trained to do and for that reason he was given away to a band of horse traders and led off to Kansas. Anyway, that is the story which surrounds the history of a pony owned by the Mulholland boys which dropped the father over his head at the end of the hundred yeard dash and came back to the stake to claim the race.

It was in the days when boys prided themselves on their ponies which could be first to the hundred yard stake and whirl and beat the others back to the starting point. The Mulholland boys had Billy pretty well trained so that all that was necessary was to start him down the pasture and when he had completed a distance of approximately 100 yeards he whirled of his own accord and was started back .

One day Dr. David Mulholland call- of his own was brought to him he de- of ih sown was brought to him he decided that Billy was the pony for him to ride. He arranged his saddle bags and mounted Billy, ignorant of the ponies training, and started down the lane. When approximately 100 yeards had been completed Billy started back but Dr. Mulholland kept on going.

The next scene was the pathetic one for the boys. Dr. Mulholland came walking down the lane with the highterly silk hat which he always wore, crushed over his eyes, and leading Billy towards a band of horse traders, to whom he said: "Would you like to have a pony?" That was the last hundred yard dash that Billy made in Missouri.

HUFF BROTHERS ON TRIAL.

Men Will Appear Who Are Said to Be Implicated in Robbery.

(From Shenandoah Sentinel-Post)

Twenty-two criminal cases are on the docket awaiting appearance before the grand jury at Clarinda and a number of others out on bail.

Among the cases under consideration are those of George and Walter Huff, whose cases were first entered with that of Elmer Hamilton. They demanded separate trials. This was granted and now Hamilton is serving time at Ft. Madison. A. M. Lucas was also sent to Ft. Madison.

The Huff brothers have not as yet been tried, the charge against them being entered as "Robbery and aggravation."

When the trial occurs it is likely that the story of the robbery of the Kramers east of Shambaugh will be brought to the fore again. "Old Man Kramer" and his nephew will again be called to the witness stand.

LAW MUST DECIDE WHETHER CADDYING IS FUN OR WORK.

London, Aug. 21.—Is cadding employment or pleasure?

This is the problem that the Ministry of Labor must solve. Under the laws providing for unemployment doles, employers are forced to pay a certain amount in unemployment insurance every week. The question has now arisen whether golf clubs should be forced to pay unemployment insurance for caddies, and it is to be determined whether caddying is employment.

Not a Chance.

PUBLIC BEING MISLED CLAIMS RAILWAY AGE

Magazine Cites Actual Record of Labor Board in All Shopmen Cases.

New York, Aug. 21.—That the public has been widely misled in the conception given it of alleged violations of the transportation act and rulings of the labor board is the declaration made by Railway Age in an editorial, 'The Crimes' of the Railways," in the current issue.

"So much propaganda has been disseminated from labor union sources alleging wholesale violations by the railways of the labor provisions of the transportation act and the decisions of the railroad labor board," says the Railway Age, "that it is time the public was given a plain statement of the actual facts.

"The facts given in this editorial will relate only to cases affecting the shopcrafts since they are the only employes who have gone on strike and offered 'offenses committed by the railways as a reason for doing so. The facts which will be presented are taken from records compiled by and for the railroad labor board, and public members of the board are the Railway age's authority for stating that the cases we shall mention are the only cases involving alleged violations by railways of the law or decisions of the board which have been brought to the attention of the board.

"The are over 200 Class I. railways. How many of these are involved in these alleged violations? Exactly twenty-four.

"How many violations of the law or decisions of the board have been charged? The number of these alleged violations is thirty-four.

"What is the nature of the alleged violations? Twenty-two out of thirty-four cases involve the contracting of work by seventeen different railways. These railways had 12 per cent of the total milage of all the Class I railways. Therefore, no contracting of work has been complained of upon railways having 88 per cent of the total milage. All these railways engaged in contracting work before there had ever been a decision by the labor board regarding whether it was legal or even desirable.

"Since the board rendered its decision all these railways but two have indicated to it that they will quit contracting out work. These two railways have a mileage of 2,691 miles, which is 1.2 per cent of the total mileage of the Class I carriers.

"There are seven railways which have been charged with making reductions in wages not authorized by the labor board. The total mileage of these railways is 4,460 miles, or about 5 per cent of the total mileage of the Class I railways.

Outrunning The Marathoner

WHEN 10,000 ancient Greeks drove the cPrsian hordes from the plains of Marathon, they at once dispatched a courier to Athens to bear intelligence of their victory.

It took the messenger hours to reach the city, and so breathless was he that, as the people thronged eagerly about him to hear the news, he merely gasped "Victory is ours"—and fell dead. That was several hundred years B .C.

Today, the papers of the world would get the news almost simultaneously with its happening, slap extras on their presses, and shortly the thrilling story would be in the hands of some millions of readers.

Papers have supplanted the courier, multiplied his effectiveness and increased his speed a hundred-fold.

Not only does the newspaper make public the news in the world of events, but it also keeps our information up-to-date on every article of human need, whether food, clothing, household appliances, necessities or luxuries. The latter news is found in the advertisements.

Advertising will help you. Whether you realize it or not, advertising is a big, vital force in your life. Through it, American genius and American manufacturers are putting within your reach the many comforts and conveniences of modern life.

Produce Review.

The supply of cream delivered to creameries during the week was smaller than last week, and has resulted in higher prices being paid for butterfat and butter. The consumption is ahead of last year. It is not expected at this time that importations will be heavy.

Egg receipts are lighter and there is a continued good demand for good eggs. To secure best prices, eggs should be gathered daily, kept in a cool place, and marketed frequently.

The volume of poultry moving is sufficient for current use; in fact, there has been a little surplus of dressed chickens and broilers this week, resulting in some decline in price.

"What's the matter?" inquired Brown's friend. "You're looking pretty blue." "Yes," growled Brown. "I was coming along the High street to-night when, without a moment's warning, something smashed into my back and bowled me over. When I gathered myself together, I found that a boy and a bicycle were mixed up on the pavement. I just took hold of the youngster and gave him a swift entry into the road. The bicycle I finished off so that it will never run again."

"Well, that ought to have relieved your feelings," interrupted his friend.

"In the ordinary course it might have done," said Brown; "but I found that it was my boy and my bicycle!"

CURIOUS FOCUSING OF SOUNDS

But the Explanation of Existence of "Whispering Galleries" Is in the Main Simple.

The curious focusing of sounds in whispering galleries, such as the domes of St. Paul's cathedral and the capitol at Washington, is a phenomenon of much interest and impressiveness. The late Lord Rayleigh obtained evidence that the sound waves followed the concave surface to the point of increased audibility, and when a source of directed sound sent off its waves tangentially, the greatest concentration was observed. A bird-call being used, a small obstacle near the curved wall cut off most of the effect upon a sensitive flame.

In new experiments reported to the Royal society by G. V. Roman and G. A. Sutherland, a ray of light was guided by a flexible mirror, and the reflection showed alternate bands of light and darkness. In observations with a steady source of sound at one point in the dome of St. Paul's, it was found that similar alternations of sound and comparative silence were produced at intervals of about a wave length of the sound as the ear was moved away. Very pronounced fluctuations of intensity were also noted when the observer's head was moved parallel to the curved wall, instead of radially, the effect being most marked at the side of the gallery opposite the source of sound. The sensitive flame responded to fluctuations.

Medicine Hat Gasoline Rain.

A well that spouts gasoline from the earth like a cloud of steam was recently struck in the Many Island district in Canada, 25 miles northeast of Medicine Hat. Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering describes the rush which followed the discovery in which people stood all night before the Dominion land office to be the first to file leases in the morning.

The well is a natural gas drilling and the gasoline with which the gas is "wet" is not of commercial significance, as it is only a temporary condition. However, it is said that several owners of "flivvers" were quick to seize the opportunity to lay in a few weeks' supply of gas by holding out their hats. From an industrial standpoint, the recent development in the natural gas and oil fields in Canada are of great importance.

New Theater and Old Dramatist.

Mr. Macgowan seriously believes that the new stagecraft releases the spirit of the playwright; it seems to me that the old playwright has released the spirit of the new stage artist. The revolving stage made possible "On Trial"; but the despised old theater was sufficient for "Seven Keys to Baldpate"; and Dante, Shakespeare, and Tolstoy are the sources of our finest stage productions so far.—G. S. in the Dial.

Oldest Dead-Head Pass.

Marc Klaw, theatrical magnate, brought to America what he interprets as the "first dead-head" pass given for a theatrical performance.

Exhibiting a fragment of lava in the form of a skull, he said it was a ticket for an old Roman theater. He said he had picked it up in Italy and believed it was made in 77 A. D.

WALDIER AND BOATRIGHT BABIES SCORED PERFECT

And Were Awarded Prizes in Ravenwood Baby Clinic—Twenty-Two Were Entered.

Hubert Waldeir, the 11 months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Waldeir of Parnell and Ila Maude Boatwright the 2½ months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Boatwright of Stanberry, both scored 100 per cent and were awarded the prizes as perfect babies out of the twenty-seven babies which were entered in the baby show at Ravenwood Saturday.

Miss Margaret Scully and Mrs. Grace Bean, county health nurses, said that a number of the babies were scored down because of the way in which they were dressed and their general care. They said that too many of the babies had too much clothing; petticoats, hoods and ribbons for the babies' comfort. Some of them were heavily clothed and broken out with the heat.

One of the outstanding points of the two children which scored 100 per cent was the fact that they were breast-fed babies.

There were twenty-seven children scored by the health department in the baby show. They represented the towns in Nodaway County, Stanberry, Gentry, Omaha and Studley, Kan.

What the Independence Paper Says:

The following is what the Independence, Mo., Examiner says about advertising Nodaway County:

Instead of taking to the state fair at Sedalia a carload of the products of Nodaway County to show what the county produces the Chamber of Commerce of Maryville is opening a moving picture show on the fair grounds. The pictures taken throughout the county show the roads, the houses, the barns, the stock, the growing grain and take the visitor on a little side trip through one of the richest counties in Missouri. A big black tent has been set up at the fair with attractive signs and a delegation to welcome visitors and the show is continuous. This is the only county so advertised at the Fair.

George A. Pickens, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, and F. R. Marcell the picture man, accompanied by two Nodaway County men, passed through Independence Friday afternoon on their way to Sedalia. In the car were loaded the boxes containing the films for the show. Pickens wore a union suit which had not been near a bathing pool for some time and was recognizable only by the way he wears his mustache, and his compelling smile. The party had car trouble and instead of being at Sedalia for dinner Friday were in Independence. They found expert mechanics here and after a visit to a local restaurant started toward Lee's Summit intending to drive on to Sedalia before stopping again.

Maryville is the county seat of one of the richest agricultural counties in Missouri and is the largest city in the immediate territory. It maintains a Chamber of Commerce and two good daily newspapers and in the support of the organization has the good will and the financial aid of the land owners and the farmers. Farmers are members of the Chamber and take part in its activities. The special fund provided for the State Fair exhibit was raised by voluntary contributions from the farmers.

NO NOTE SENT TO CUBA ABOUT ALIEN SMUGGLING

Miss Lola Claire Landfather, who spent last week visiting with her brother, Lorace Landfather, at Pattonsburg, returned to her home Saturday night.

It's a Queer Word!

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 16—Southern California ranchers had a new worry today. They were trying to figure out what is a lemon—the kind that grow on trees, of course.

Dr. W. E. Ringle, of the Kansas State Normal School, says a lemon is not a fruit but a berry. Then he supplements that statement by adding that a berry is not a berry, but a fruit.

But Dr. Geo. Clements, head of the horticultural department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, says:

"Why not say a lemon is a cherry, which is just as sensible as to call it a berry? A lemon is a fruit when it has reached such a degree of cultivation as to make it edible, otherwise a lemon."

Jack Grimstead arrived yesterday from St. Joseph and will be the guest at the E. L. Ferritor home until Wednesday.

Gasoline in Storage and the Motor Car

MUCH has been said of the enormous stocks of gasoline in storage, but very little has been said of this storage as it compares to the number of cars in commission.

Recent statistics complied by the American Petroleum Institute comparing the number of motor cars in commission with the amount of gasoline in storage, show that there was less gasoline per car in storage June 1 of this year than at any similar period during the last 5 years, with the exception of 1920.

Year	Autos reg. Jan. 1	Stocks June 1	Gallons per car
1918	4,983,340	460,637,479	92.4
1919	6,146,617	594,035,688	96.6
1920	7,558,818	577,671,795	76.4
1921	9,211,295	800,495,787	86.9
1922	10,448,622	855,607,102	82.0
	Average 1918 to 1921 . . .		87.2

Nothwithstanding the fact that the crude oil production is very heavy at this time, the rapid increase in the production of automobiles and other automotive machinery has created a demand which already is greater than the increased supply.

The current output of the several large refineries of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) supplemented by the reserves now on hand, enables the Company to guarantee that the public shall have a steady, dependable supply of Red Crown Gasoline at its command.

Because of its size, its progressive and efficient management, its ample resources, and unrivaled facilities, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is able to provide the needful amounts of petroleum products to supply the vast demands made upon it. Its manufacturing facilities are planned to anticipate these needs years in advance and always are ready for service. Its constantly expanding distribution system is growing as the need for this service grows. Even in the remote corners of the 10 states served by this Company, the dark green tank wagon is a familiar and welcome visitor.

No matter how the production of crude oil has fluctuated, no matter how urgent the demand nor how limited the supply, motorists will recall that not once in the most stringent emergencies of the past has the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) through any fault of its own, failed to supply their essential needs. This Company has every confidence that its future record of service will be equally satisfactory.
